What is USG?

The United Students Government is the student governing body at Buffalo State College created by the students of the College in 1971. The purpose of USG is to represent the student body and promote quality activities, services, organizations, and programs funded by the mandatory student activity fee.

As a member organization, your group will deal with the student government through the Administrative Vice President your organization is assigned to, as well as your organization having a member representative to report as a liaison to and from your group.

The requirements your organization must fulfill to remain a member-in-good-standing are outlined in Article 9 of the USG Constitution. This article is included in the appendix of this booklet. Every officer, as well as member, should be familiar with this document, as it is the vital information to ensure the continuation of the organization.

What are the benefits of becoming a USG organization?

Being a USG organization will allow your group to become part of the “USG” family. This includes being a part of a corporation that will provide you the support, and possible financial backing to be a beneficial group on campus. This will include such things as access to Press Services, access to USG’s camping site Whispering Pines, membership to Bengal Connect, and overall guidance from your elected USG officers and Business Staff.

However, for some organizations, USG can impede the functions of the group. This can include no fundraising, as well as charging organization dues.

How to Become a Recognized USG Organization

Is USG the right choice for your organization?

First step first!

Your organization must be a group of Buffalo State College students who are dedicated and passionate about not only current activities, but making sure the group develops and stays successful on campus.

Your group should have a good mix of students in all stages of their college careers. Seniors and juniors may be the leaders of today but the freshman and sophomores will be the face of your organization once you are gone.

Elections then should be held to elect the proper officers per your constitution. Typically, this includes a president, vice-president, treasurer, and secretary. Each of these positions should be highlighted in your constitution, along with their duties.

A constitution then should be written to give your organization its boundaries and guidelines (please see appendix).

A faculty advisor is then needed. This advisor must be someone who can dedicate their time to attend meetings and help the group advance on not only on campus, but in the community. The advisor should also be knowledgeable in your organization’s internal procedures, such as budget.

Next, register your organization with the Student Life Office (Union 400). Why? This means that you will be recognized by the campus, and you will have the ability to sign out meeting rooms and Union lobby tables.

Finally, you will be eligible to apply for possible recognition with USG. The steps are highlighted below.

Please Note:

-The organization should already be active on campus for at least 1-2 semesters. This is a great time to have a few small events and meetings to prove that your organization is a valid group, and has already started developing.

-Make sure everything is documented. Minutes, activities, sign-in sheets, printed publicity from events as well as pictures of group activities. These are all great tools to see how your group is doing over time. These items all give the Rules and Regulations Committee something to look over and evaluate to see the organization's history on campus.

The Recognition Process:

The "Student Organization Recognition Form" is an online form found in the Forms section of the United Students Government page on the Bengal Connect website (bengalconnect.com). The form guides you through the proper materials needed for submission in order to be considered for USG recognition. This will include:

- Name of organization, the general mission of the group, and how long you have been active on campus
- Primary Contact Person during the application process
- Any National/International or any off-campus affiliation
- List of Elected Officers of the organization
- Name of Faculty/Staff Advisor
- A list of 10 current activity-fee paying students who are members
- A list sampling specific activities and services that your organization offers

In addition the following will have to be delivered to the Rules Chair once your application is submitted:

- Current Constitution (Please see appendix)
- A copy of minutes from a recent organization meeting
- Proof of you group's public activity on campus

Once your Student Organization Recognition Application Form is submitted you will be contacted by the Rules Chair. The Rules and Regulations Committee will review the application and set up a meeting to further examine your group, as well as make sure everything is turned in and abides by the USG Constitution. The review could take considerable time and involve several meetings with your group; USG wants to give you every opportunity to meet the requirements for recognition.

After review and meeting with your organization, the Rules and Regulations committee will make a final review of the application, and vote whether or not to recommend your organization the USG Senate for recognition. If you are brought to the Senate, representatives from your organization must be present to introduce your organization, as well as answer any questions regarding your organization. If your organization is passed by the Senate, the organization becomes a recognized non-funded USG organization as of that date.

Your organization will then meet with their assigned AVP and Rules Chair for orientation.

So here is the most-asked question...what about funding?

Most organizations want to be a part of USG for not only the promotion, but for the funding. This is where the notorious student activity fee comes into play. This money, collected from our undergraduate student population, is what creates the budget for USG and its organizations.

Because you now have access to the activity fee funds there are several mandated guidelines you must follow. You cannot charge organizational dues, or hold fundraising events.

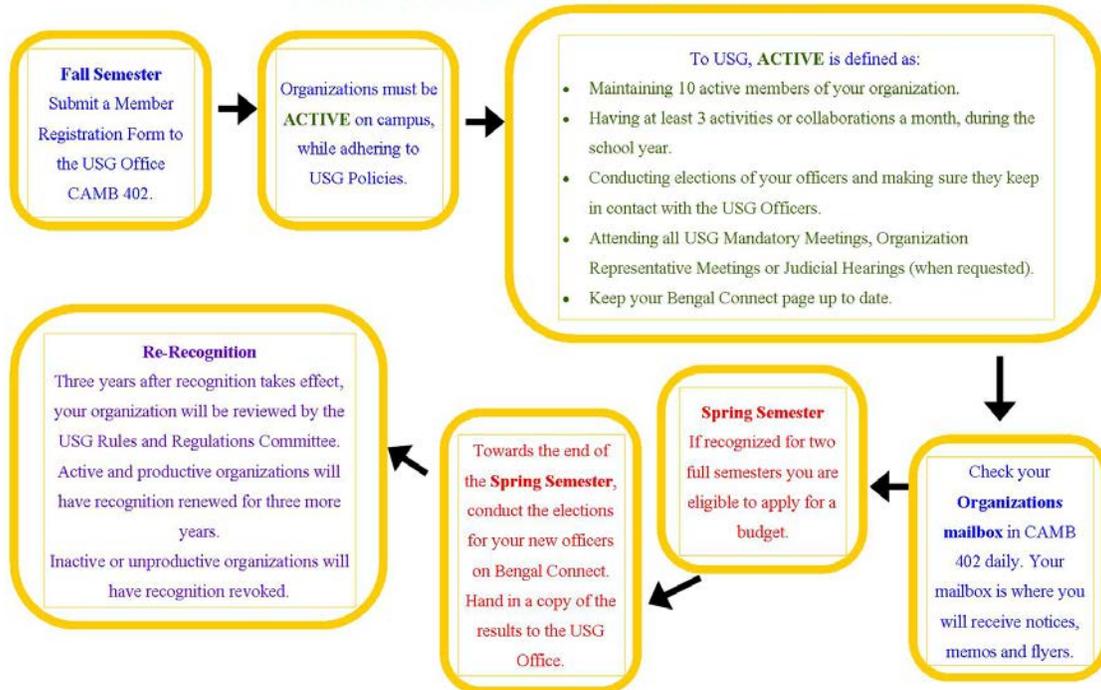

According to the USG Constitution, an organization must be recognized for at least two full semesters before applying for a budget. However, this is not the only way to attain money. Organizations that have been recognized by USG but are not yet funded can apply for funds from Academic Assembly. These are funds set aside in the USG budget for recognized-but-unfunded organizations. To apply for funding for a specific event or activity, pick up an Academic Assembly form in the USG business office, room 416 of the Student Union. There are also separate entities from USG that can be a source of funding as well. FSA and the Grant Allocation committee, as well as contacting your advisor and the department you are associated with, may also be other options until the organization is allowed to access funding.

So after all of that...now what?

After your organization has been recognized by the USG Senate, the possibilities are endless. Your organization can now access the “perks” of USG, such as Press Services, as well as Bengal Connect. But keep in mind, your organization must stay in contact with USG throughout the year. This involves attending the mandatory USG Corporate Meeting, as well as the Organization Representative Meetings. The main forms of contact will include your official USG mailbox (located in the Campbell Student Union Room 402) as well as the Bengal Connect web site. Communication is key; please don’t hesitate to ask any of your elected USG officers if you have any questions!

“My Organization is USG Recognized now what?”
Below is a simple chart to guide your organization through the USG Process. For further reference review the USG Constitution.

 - 2) Can be waived due to extraneous circumstances, in which case the activity will be determined by the Rules and Regulations Committee
 - d. Missing/ defunct executive board
 - 1) In the case that an organization has not elected/appointed an executive boards the previous academic year, the organization will be considered inactive
 - 2) If funded, budget will be frozen until proper elections can be held
 - 3) If the organization does not hold proper elections by November 1 for the fall semester or April 1 for the spring semester, the organization forfeits its recognized status as a USG organization
9. Upon the date the Senate recognizes an organization, the organization may apply for a budget only after being a USG Recognized Organization for two full semesters.

D. Duties and Powers of USG Recognized Organizations and Student Services

1. Shall abide by USG's Non-Discriminatory Statement, Article II of this Constitution.
2. The group's President is required to develop and recommend with the cooperation of the group's elected E-board an approved transition and training program for the newly elected officers.
3. The organization's membership must elect their organization representative, who will attend all USG Senate Meetings designated Organization Representative Meetings. See Article VI of this constitution for rules and procedures.
4. The group must comply with all of the USG Alcohol Policy Guidelines.
5. All money raised through the USG funds by organizations shall belong to the USG.
6. The organization shall keep a complete list of its active membership and shall keep adequate records of its proceedings and also make them available to any activity fee-paying student upon reasonable request.

7. The group will perform an adequate amount of activity, which contributes educationally or socially to the campus environment, and support the organizations constitutional purpose.
8. Organizations CANNOT hold a major event at the same time as a major event of USG.
9. The entire E-board of the organization shall attend the United Students Government Service Group Corporate Meeting.
 - a. All USG Organizations and Student Services must be given at least two weeks prior notice before of the United Students Government Service Group Corporate Meeting.
10. If USG Organizations or Student Services miss the United Students Government Service Group Corporate Meeting:
 - 1) Funded Organizations
 - (a) The first missed meeting: will result in the organization's budget being frozen for a minimum of seven days. An organization or student service has five business days from the mandatory meeting to file a grievance with the Judicial Council. If no grievance has been filed with the Judicial Council, the organization or student service forfeits their right to dispute a 5% budget cut. Organizations or student services that have filed a grievance will have their budget remain frozen until the Judicial Council rules on an appropriate budget cut.
 - 2) Non-funded organizations
 - (a) The first missed meeting: the USG organization must report to Judicial Council.
11. The USG Treasurer will facilitate a training session for all organization Treasurers.
 - a. Attendance is mandatory for all Organization Treasurers.
 - b. This training session must be facilitated no later than the third week of the Fall Semester.
12. Failure of the Organization Treasurer to attend the mandatory training sessions;
 - 1) Funded Organizations
 - (a) This will result in the organization's budget being frozen until the Organization Treasurer is trained.
 - 2) Non-Funded
 - (a) This organization will be investigated by the Rules and Regulations Committee to determine if said organization must undergo re-recognition.
13. In the course of any organization / club event where fifty tickets are sold for cash or cash attendees, professional accountable person(s) must collect and account for income.

- a. A professional accountable person is defined as a paid USG employee, on-site employer of location of event, staff or faculty of Buffalo State College, or a paid outsourced person.

E. Constitutions of Organizations and Student Services

1. The Rules and Regulations Committee and the Senate must approve an organizations constitution.
2. The USG Constitution takes precedence over the constitution of all the USG approved organizations.
3. The group must adhere to the provisions of its own constitution. Any changes in an organization's constitution must be passed by the organization in a manner consistent with the provision in that constitution. Furthermore, the USG Rules and Regulations Committee and a two-thirds vote of the Senate must approve these changes prior to implementation.

F. Removal of Recognition

1. Failure to adhere to one or more of the USG organizational requirements stated in Article IX Section C and D will be sufficient grounds for the removal of recognition.
2. Removal Process
 - a. The Rules and Regulations Committee may investigate any organization that may not be following the USG rules or guidelines. During the investigation the following steps must be taken:
 - 1) The Rules and Regulations Committee must hold hearings with all of the following: the organization in question and their advisor as well as all persons who brought a grievance forward against the organization in question.
 - 2) If the Rules and Regulations Committee finds sufficient grounds for removal of organizational recognition, the Rules and Regulations Committee must supply this recommendation for removal in writing to the Senate and the organization in question.
 - 3) If the Senate passes the recommendation by a two-thirds vote, the organization in question will be notified in writing and will lose its recognition and funding.

G. Budget allocations of USG clubs and organizations

1. No USG club or organization shall receive a budget larger than $30,000.
 - a. This provision does not include USG services and Executive budgets.

- b. To change or edit this provision in the USG constitution it requires a unanimous vote by the Rules and Regulations Committee, then a three-fourths majority vote by the Senate.
 - c. This cap shall be evaluated by the Budget Committee every two years, starting in 2007, and their findings presented to the Senate for consideration.
- 2. No USG club or organization shall receive larger than a 10% annual increase in their overall budget without a two-thirds majority vote by the senate.
 - a. This provision does not include USG services and Executive budgets.
 - b. To change or edit this provision in the USG constitution, it requires a unanimous vote by the Rules and Regulations Committee, then a three-fourths majority vote by the Senate.

ARTICLE VI – ORGANIZATION REPRESENTATIVE

Section I

- A. Every USG Organization and Student Service will have one “Organization Representative” within the USG Senate.
 - a. They shall be elected by the organization’s membership every spring for the next academic year. The organization’s President must notify the USG AVP for Campus Affairs and Government Relations in writing who their Organization Representative is by the third week in April for the next academic year.
 - b. They must be a member of the organization as defined by the organization’s constitution.
 - c. They can be an executive board member of the organization.
 - d. The Organization’s President is directly responsible for their Organization Representative.
 - e. A USG Senator cannot be an Organization Representative.
- B. A minimum of two Senate meetings a semester will be dedicated to having Organization Representative Meetings.
 - a. Organization Representatives are only required to come to the USG Senate Meetings that are designated as Organization Representative Meetings.
 - b. Organization Representatives must be given one months’ notice for all Senate Organization Representative Meetings.
 - c. The meeting purpose will be for the Senate to interact with the organization representative, disseminate any important information, and discuss any issues that are occurring in the organization.

- d. It is the job of the Organization Representative to report back to their organization all information given at the Organization Representative Meetings.
- C. The AVP for Campus Affairs and Government Relations is charged with keeping attendance logs of the Organization Representatives.
- a. If an Organization Representative fails to show up to an Organization Representative Meeting, the AVP for Campus Affairs and Government Relations will contact the Organization's President within seven business days to inform them of the absence.
 - b. If an Organization Representative cannot attend an Organization Representative Meeting they must notify the AVP for Campus Affairs and Government Relations in writing or by e-mail twenty-four hours prior to the start of the Organization Representative Meeting.
 - c. For Recognized and Funded Organizations and Student Service that miss Organization Representative Meetings:
 - 1. The first missed Organization Representative Meeting will result in the Organization's budget being frozen for a minimum of seven days. An Organization or Student Service has seven days from the Organization Representative Meeting to file a grievance with the Judicial Council. If no grievance has been filed with the Judicial Council, the Organization or Student Services forfeits their right to dispute a 5% budget cut. Organizations or Student Services that have filed a grievance will have their budget remain frozen until the Judicial Council rules on an appropriate budget cut.
 - 2. The second missed meeting will result in the loss of their budget for the rest of the fiscal year.
 - 3. The third missed meeting will result in the loss of recognition.
 - d. For Recognized / Non-funded Organization who miss Organization Representative Meetings:
 - 1. The first missed Organization Representative Meeting will result in the Organization having to report to the Judicial Council.
 - 2. If the organization misses two Organization representative Meetings, the Organization cannot submit any proposals for any Academic Assembly Funding for the rest of the present fiscal year.
 - 3. If three Organization Representative Meetings are missed the consequence will be loss of USG Recognition.

How to write a Constitution

What should be covered in a Constitution?

This document is an outline of what is to be included in a Constitution. The objective is to draft a document that covers all of these topics in a simple, clear and concise manner. Explanations are in italics. Try to keep your organization's purpose in mind at all times while adapting this sample. This example should help you include all of the necessary information.

CONSTITUTION TEMPLATE for USG STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

To prepare your organization's constitution keep the roman-type sections of this sample exactly as they appear and fill in other information using the italic instructions as a guide.

Article I - Organization Name

The name of the organization shall be _____.

[It is here that the official name of your organization is filled in. Just the statement above and the organization name are all that is needed.]

Article II - Purpose

[The purpose of your organization goes here. Restate the name of your organization, what you stand for, what principles you uphold and who you represent. When filling this section out, keep in mind that we are on a very diverse campus and your organization should reflect that diversity. Do not just target one section of the campus population — both your group and the campus may suffer in the long run.]

Article III - Membership

[In this article you state who may be a member of your organization. The rule of thumb is that membership is open to all activity fee-paying students though you can disallow non-activity fee-paying students. However, all activity fee-paying students must be able to be members. The activity fee is the ONLY fee that a student must pay in order to be a member of an organization. You cannot charge fees, nor can you require that a student be a member of a national/local organization that requires fees.]

Section I - Voting Members

A. [In this section you set out who is allowed to vote. In most cases you are left to your better judgment on this, but keep in mind that all activity fee-paying students must be able to vote in elections and on issues. A suggested requirement is to take attendance at each meeting (a sign-in sheet will work) and allow those who attend 2 or more meetings a month or for 2 consecutive months to vote (this assuming your organization has 4 or more meetings a month).]

B. [Here you lay out how a member retains voting membership. A good rule of thumb is to allow those who attend general interest meetings to be voting members. Defining "active" participation in committee and general meetings is too subjective and is discouraged. Again, an organization may not disallow members from voting for not paying a membership fee beyond the student activity fee.]

Section II

[This section must appear as written here:]

All members must share equally in the rights of the organization and no rights shall be abridged. All members may participate in all events and activities sponsored by the organization.

Article IV - Officers and Elections

Section I - Executive Officers

[Lay out what officers your organization is going to have. For most organizations a President, Vice President, Treasurer, Vice-Treasurer, Secretary and Organization Representative are enough. As you form committees (and disband them) the positions can be elected by your members on an ad hoc basis. Use Robert's Rules of Order for their tasks.]

A. The President:

1. Shall be the official representative of the [organization name here].
2. Shall serve as speaker of the Executive Board.
3. Shall have a vote in the Executive Board only in cases of a tie.
4. Work with Secretary in formulating meeting agendas.
5. Shall chair all general membership meetings.

6. Directly responsible for the Organization Representative.

7. Notify the USG AVP for Campus Affairs and Government Relations in writing who the (Organization Name here) Organization Representative is by the third week in April for the next academic year.

B. The Vice President:

1. Shall perform the duties of the President in the absence or inability of the President.

2. In cases of resignation or dismissal of the President, the Vice-President shall assume the position.

3. Shall be a voting member of the Executive Board and the general membership.

4. Shall be Executive Chairperson of all existing committees. [Applies only if you have committees]

5. Shall work with the President in understanding and interpreting all phases of work.

C. Treasurer

1. Shall be the only person permitted to receive, hold, disburse, and account for all organization funds, and keep order of the [organization name here] financial records. Shall make monthly and annual reports of receipts, disbursements and fund balances of the [organization name here].

2. Shall guide the Executive Board in preparation of the budget.

3. Shall be a voting member of the Executive Board and general membership.

4. Shall present the annual proposed budget to the organization for approval.

[Note: A Vice-Treasurer can help the Treasurer perform these duties however under USG rules, a Vice Treasurer CANNOT sign purchase orders and other documents in place of the Treasurer. In the event of resignation or dismissal of the Treasurer, the Vice-Treasurer can assume the position. If your organization is electing a Vice-Treasurer add an area in this section for their duties.]

D. Secretary

1. Shall take accurate minutes of all meetings of the Executive Board and the general membership meetings.

2. Shall serve as custodian of all records and official papers as may be placed in his / her care.
3. Shall be a non-voting member of the Executive Board.
4. Shall be a voting/non-voting of the general membership. [When writing constitution Executive Board needs to choose if the Secretary position is a voting or non-voting member of the general membership.]
5. Shall keep an accurate up to date roll of voting membership.
6. Shall work with committee chairs and other officers in receiving, evaluating and preparing reports.
7. Shall care for correspondence as directed to the organization.
8. Shall be in charge of monitoring the organization's Bengal Connect page

E. Organization Representative

1. It is the job of the Organization Representative to report back to their organization all information given at the Organization Representative Meetings.
2. Shall be in charge of representing the organization at USG's Organization Representative Meetings.
3. Shall be the Organization's parliamentarian [Executive Board decides on that as it may already be another officer's responsibility.]
4. Shall partner with the secretary in monitoring and updating the organization's Bengal Connect page.
5. Will frequently check the Organization's mailbox located at the USG office.
6. Shall be a non-voting member of the Executive Board and voting member of the general membership.

Section II - Committee Chairs [this section only applies if you plan to have committees in your organization]

[Committee chairs may also be voting members of your organization's Executive Board. However, your organization must state this in Section IV of Article IV of your organization's constitution. List each Committee Chairs you plan to have here with their duties.

Section III - Election of Officers

- A. [State when elections will be held, mid-April is recommended. Results have to be handed in to the USG business office or AVP for CAGR by the last day of the spring semester. Make certain that you allow enough time for the new officers to be trained by the old.]

- B. [Specify officially who is allowed to run for office in your group. Do not forget that ANY undergraduate activity fee-paying Buffalo State student can run for office. The only limits you can set are that the person must be a member in good standing of the local organization to run.]
- C. The Organization Representative shall be elected by the organization's membership every spring for the next academic year. They must be a member of (Organization name here). They can be an executive board member of the organization.

Section IV - Executive Board Powers and Duties

[This is where the responsibilities of the executive board as a group are listed.]

- A. The executive power and administrative functions of the [organization name here] shall be vested in the Executive Board.
- B. The Executive Board is made up of the President, Vice President, Treasurer, Vice Treasurer (if applicable), and Committee Chairs (if applicable). The Secretary and Organization Representative are non-voting members of the Executive Board.
- C. The Executive Board shall hold weekly meetings and have the responsibility of calling general membership meetings.
- D. Shall prepare the budget of the [organization name here] for the following year.
- E. Special meetings of the Executive Board shall be called by the President or by a majority of the Executive Board.
- F. A quorum shall consist of a simple majority of members of the Executive Board.
- G. Any vacancy in any position of the Executive Board shall be filled by appointment of the President, in case there's no President, appointment will be made by the Executive Board and be confirmed by the general membership. [This means that any confirmation by the general membership must be made in a timely manner. It is suggested that it be held within two weeks. A 2/3 vote will confirm the appointment.]

Article V - Meetings and Quorum

[Frequency of organization meetings (minimum once a month) should be listed here. Should also explain special meetings who is allowed to call them and under what circumstances. This area should also explicitly define your quorum and your provisions for recording the minutes for your meetings.]

Article VI - Committees

[For the purpose of developing active well informed members, encouraging members to participate in decision making of the organization committees is necessary.]

Separate sections under this article should explain how each committee is established, how committee business is transacted (voting, reports, procedures) and of course the charge of the committee and responsibilities of committee members.

Again, committees are most important when they allow the members to make decisions and learn valuable leadership skills.]

Article VII - The Advisor:

- A. Shall give support to the members of [organization name here] on a case-by-case basis and as deemed necessary.
- B. Shall not be required to participate in meetings or activities.
- C. Shall be held accountable only in so far as intellectual support is concerned.
- D. Shall be appointed by the President of [organization name here] and verified by a majority vote of the general body.
- E. The advisor is responsible for providing long-term continuity within the group and should be familiar with its history.
- F. Advisor has to be a faculty or staff member of SUNY Buffalo State.

[An Advisor can only advise no more than two USG Organizations. Remember- your advisor is there to help you. If you feel that your advisor is not doing his or her job or is taking too much control of your organization in that respect you may choose to no longer use them as an advisor and select a new one.]

Article VIII - Removal

Removal of members, if deemed necessary, will depend on both a decision of the Executive Board and a super majority vote (2/3 + 1) of the general membership. All members of [organization name here] retain the rights of due process.

Article IX - Amendments

Amendments to the constitution of [organization name here] are not binding until approved by the USG Senate.

Article X - Parliamentary Authority

The special rules of order to be followed, if chosen, shall be Robert's Rules of Order.

Article XI - Ratification

Section I - Ratification Vote

An affirmative vote of a simple majority of the organization's members will ratify the constitution.

Section II - Ratification Date

[The date and voting record of ratification by your organization shall be listed here.]

Section III - USG Senate Recognition

[Here leave a space for the USG Rules Chair to record the date and voting record of the USG Senate's ratification of your organization's constitution. A simple majority affirmative vote of the USG Senate will ratify the constitution.]

How to properly write meeting minutes:

Label the proper document or form with all of the important information such as: name of organization, date and time of the meeting and who was in attendance.

- 1) Label the proper sub-headings, or what the meeting will address. Don't hesitate to use a recorder or laptop, or even shorthand to help with process.
- 2) Record the meeting with as much detail as possible, with the most important issues covered. This includes who were speaking, the topic discussed and any vote counts.
- 3) Have a final draft ready for the chair of the meeting to look over and approve.

Here is an example of a proper way to document minutes:

(Organization Name) Minutes

Type of Meeting

Date and Time

I. Call to Order

Roll Call @ _: __ pm

II. Approval of the Minutes

A. President Smith asks if there is a motion to approve the previous General Interest Meeting Minutes for October 1, 2011. Treasurer Johnson makes a motion to approve the General Interest Meeting Minutes for October 1, 2011. EVP McDonald 2nd. Vote is taken and passes 20 yeas, 0 nays and 0 abstentions.

III. Approval of the Agenda

A. President Smith asks if there are any amendments to the agenda. President Smith adds Banquet Information. Organization member motions to approve the agenda with the changes. Member Lee 2nd. Vote is taken and passes 20 yeas, 0 nays and 0 abstentions.

IV. President Smith Report:

A. These lines should have a full explanation of what he/she is talking about throughout the meeting. This includes any questions or comments.

B. Questions & Comments

V. Old Business

A. This line should cover any prior business that needs to be resolved in the meeting that doesn't have to do with any of the elected officer's reports.

VI. New Business

A. This line should cover any new business that needs to be discussed in the meeting that doesn't have to do with any of the elected officer's reports.

VII. Constituents Questions/Announcements

A. This is for any of your members or outside visitors to speak regarding any issues in the meeting.
